

Advantages of membrane level indicators:

- reliable level indication for many different bulk solids
- flush with inside wall of the silo or container
- no energy required for sensor operating
- no cabling for power supply
- easy installation and commissioning

4

